Story:

Kylie	Hello - remember us?
Cameron	Why kylie how can they forget? We are certainly something to remember
Kylie	I think the main thing they remember about us Cameron is the fact that you wet them through every time we come to see them.
Cameron	Now kylie my little sand castle in the air, that's not fair and anyway I've been sorting out my little spitting problem
Kylie	Have you really - why's that then?
Cameron	Well we've been learning about the fruits of the Spirit in church and one of them is patience, so I've been on an anger management course, and now when I'm angry I don't spit.
Kylie	Well I think the idea is that you work with the Spirit not the psychologist but never mind it's a start. Have you got it completely under control?
Cameron	Well not quite, but I have a technique, go on make me angry
Kylie	Erm. Your hump is not as big as Claude's
Cameron	I'm still OK
Kylie	Erm. You're not the most intelligent grain in the sand
Cameron	Now that does it! I'm going to blows bubbles
Kylie	Oh, Cameron you're not all the way there but that was much better!
Cameron	Hey look there's a van!
Kylie	Well I don't think it wants any camels in it
Cameron	Aw come on, let's take it for a drive
Kylie	We can't, I heard the driver say he'd run out of petrol
Cameron	Well we can put some more in
Kylie	We haven't got any
Cameron	This might help shows bottle of pop
Kylie	Cameron vans do not run on pop
Cameron	What about this shows jar of pickled onions this will really make it go.
Kylie	Pickled onions will not make this van go!
Cameron	Well they certainly make me go! In fact, sometimes I can't stop going
Kylie	Yes, that's enough about that thank you
Cameron	Sometimes for weeks

Kylie	Cameron!
Cameron	Sometimes for years
Kylie	Enough! This van needs fuel - petrol fuel
Cameron	Oh, why didn't you say so?
Kylie	I was trying to
Cameron	All right, don't take the hump! Sorry folks had to get it in at least once! So, without fuel it won't go anywhere?
Kylie	That's right and we're just the same
Cameron	I don't look like a van
Kylie	I didn't say you looked like a van
Cameron	Who do I look like then? Tom Cruise? George Clooney?
Kylie	Just be quiet and listen for a moment
Cameron	What noise does a moment make?
Kylie	What?
Cameron	You said listen for a moment, I'm trying to hear it.
Kylie	Look Cameron, I am trying to tell you that just like a van we need fuel to live. God gives us the Holy Spirit
Cameron	Well why didn't you say so? The Holy Spirit is just like petrol. Is it alcoholic then?
Kylie	No of course not
Cameron	But it's liquid, just like petrol - could be ethanol, and I read somewhere that people were drunk the first time it appeared.
Kylie	No Cameron, sorry I've mixed you up. The Holy Spirit is a person, in fact he's God himself. But he's the bit of God that comes to live in us, when we ask him too. I was just trying to point out that he gives us power to run efficiently. By which I mean, live well, for God.
Cameron	So, he doesn't smell of fumes then?
Kylie	Cameron there are times I could run you over in this van
Cameron	You can't, it doesn't have any fuel!
